Business Development Representative (m/f)

We are ch-aviation, a company that specialises in data research. Once we collect and verify the data, we present it in our online database. And then you come in: you reach out to different companies worldwide and offer a subscription to our database. (for example, if an airline wants to see which aircraft are available for leasing, we can help them with that) You would have the opportunity to work for a company that operates globally but is not a corporation. We could be a great fit if you value proactivity, independence, and flexibility. We are looking for someone to join our Sales department in an entry-level position. Since it is an entry-level position, there are plenty of opportunities to grow and advance. But you've got to start somewhere You can apply if you are a student or have already started your career, but keep in mind that it is an entry-level position with responsibilities suitable for a junior.
